a. Inspection

Persons wishing to enter the United States are inspected by immigration officers for the purpose of determining whether they are citizens or aliens and, if aliens, whether they are admissible under the immigration laws. During the fiscal year 1961, 168 million such inspections took place. This continued a twentyyear trend of growth and exceeded last year's figure by four percent. Again, some 95 percent of this number were repeated entries by border crossers. The number of these border crossers grew by more than 50 percent during the last ten years, and exceeded 160 million this year. The number of border crossings by aliens grew by 80 percent and those of citizens increased by 29 percent. The growth is much faster at the Mexican border ( 74 percent in ten years) than at the Canadian border ( 28 percent in ten years).

International travel continued at a high level this year. There were $3,360,606$ passengers who arrived in the United States from all parts of the world on 67,680 vessels and 173,312 planes. This represents an 8 percent increase in the number of travelers over last year. While the number of arriving airplanes decreased slightly, the number of airplane passengers increased by 11 percent, indicating the larger seating capacity of jet planes.

The increased volume of inspection work was handled with speed and efficiency by officers of the Service in order to avoid inconvenience to the traveling public. Prolonged delays or waiting for inspection upon arrival at United States ports were prevented by the continued use of preflight inspection at certain foreign airports and en route inspection aboard some of the large passenger ships in the Pacific and on some railroad lines operating between Canada and the United States.

Improved or new inspectional facilities at several border ports and at a number of airports have also substantially promoted efficient service to the traveler. The Service contributed advice and planned layouts for the construction of the facilities at the various ports. Among the airports especially noteworthy are those of Seattle-Tacoma, Dallas, Houston, and San Francisco.

b. Admission

The total number of citizens admitted this year exceeded last year's figure by more than 4 percent and rose to $71,654,927$. Some 68 million of these were border crossers, and another 800,000 were crewmen.

A further 6 percent rise brought the number of citizens who returned to the United States by sea and air to $2,043,416$. Three out of every four travelers arrived by air. Most of the citizen passengers returned to the United States after visiting European countries, the Caribbean area, and Mexico.

Entries made by aliens totaled more than 96 million during the 1961 fiscal year. Over 92 million of these entries were made by border crossers, almost 4 percent more than in fiscal year 1960. The other aliens admitted are analyzed in more detail below.

At Gatcuay Bridge, Brownsuille, Texas, an Immigrant Inspucetor inspects a fow of the 103 million entrants who came fiom Mrxico in 1961.

1. Immiorunts. The number of aliens admitted to the United States as immigrants during the fiscal year 1961 again showed an increase of 2 percent over 1960. Most of these $271,344 \mathrm{im}-$ migrants were admitted at the various ports of entry, but 6 percent who were already in the United States became permanent iesidents through adjustment of status. The number of immigrants from Europe declined by 9 percent, while the number of those coming from the countries in the Western Hemisphere grew 21 percent. This was mainly due to increased immigration from Mexico and Cuba.
(a) Quota Immigrants. A total of 96,104 quota immigrants were admitted during the year, which is 5 percent less than last year's figure. This confirms the pattern observed during recent years that only about two-thirds of available quota numbers are used each year. Generally speaking, European quota countries use all or most of the quota numbers allotted to them every year with two notable exceptions: the United Kingdom with 25,100 and Ireland with 6,273 quota immigrants, again this year used less than half of the quotas available to them.

This year 3,460 of the quota immigrants were admitted under the first preference classification as aliens of high skills and special ability. These aliens were accompanied by 3,758 spouses and children, who were also admitted as first preference. This group of highly skilled aliens included 1,868 in the professions, of whom 419 were engineers, 343 professors or teachers, 141 physicians, 181 nurses, 98 chemists, and 71 other scientists.

A total of 14,933 immigrants were admitted under the second, third, and fourth preference portions of their quotas, as specified by law for certain close relatives of United States citizens and of permanent resident aliens. There were 73,923 aliens admitted as nonpreference quota immigrants. Nearly 70 percent of these came from the United Kingdom, Germany, and Ireland.

(b) Nonquota Immigrants. The number of nonquota immigrants increased 7 percent from last year and reached 175,240 in fiscal year 1961. This figure includes 32,551 spouses and children of United States citizens, as well as 112,836 natives of the Western Hemisphere, with their spouses and children. Also included are 22,840 other nonquota immigrants whose admission was made possible by special legislation. Of these aliens, 3,982 were admitted under the Act of September 11, 1957, and included 2,693 orphans and 744 refugee-escapees. There were 13,255 admitted under the Act of September 22,1959 , which provided that certain close relatives of citizens and of alien residents of the United States should be admitted as nonquota immigrants. The Act of September 2, 1958, which provided relief for victims of natural calamity in the Azores and for Netherlands nationals displaced from Indonesia, allowed 5,472 other aliens to gain admission as nonquota immigrants.

In order to enable the United States to further participate in the resettlement of refugees, Congress enacted P.L. 86-648, which became effective on July 14, 1960. This Act authorizes the Attorney General to parole into the United States alien refugee-escapees under the terms of section 212 (d) (5) of the Immigration and Nationality Act. The number of such parolees may not exceed 25 percent of the total number of refugee-escapees who have availed themselves of resettlement opportunities offered by nations other than the United States. These parolees may be granted the status of lawfully adimitted permanent residents two years after their entry. During the 1961 fiscal year, 2,942 such parolees entered the United States. More than 40 percent came originally from Yugoslavia; most of the others fled from Hungary, the United Arab Republic, Rumania, and Poland.

2. Nonimmigrunts. Nonimmigrants are aliens admitted to the United States for temporary periods. This year, $1,220,315$ such aliens were admitted, a 7 percent increase over the preceding year. This figure does not include crewmen, Mexican agricultural workers, nor border crossers.
(a) Crewmen. There were $1,746,339$ alien crewmen granted shore leave, and 121,556 crewman identification cards were issued to qualified applicants. These crewman cards greatly facilitate the inspection of arriving vessels, and a total of 366,649 such cards have been issued since the inception of the program.
(b) Temporary Workers. During the 1961 fiscal year, 338,412 workers came to perform temporary labor or other work in the United States. This included 294,149 Mexican agricultural laborers. The number of these Mexican workers decreased 31 percent compared to last year, mainly because of labor difficulties in California, bad weather conditions, and, to some extent, because of business recession. There were admitted 18,842 other agricultural workers mostly from the British West Indies and Canada, and 8,652 Canadian woodsmen. Another 7,691 were admitted as aliens of distinguished merit and ability, 3,360 as industrial trainees, and 5,718 as other temporary workers.

(c) Visitors. Tourists or visitors for pleasure numbering 742,307 came to the United States this year, an increase of 11 percent over the preceding year. Forty-seven percent of these visitors came from Europe and 46 percent from the Western Hemisphere. About one-fifth of the holiday visitors came from Mexico. Another 116,165 persons visited the United States for business reasons, almost two-thirds of whom came from Europe.

(d) Students and Exchenge Visitors. The number of students admitted was 35.072 in fiscal year 1961, which is substantially the same as in the two preceding years. Of those admitted as students, 7,497 came from Canada, 4,766 from Mexico, 4.804 from Europe, 8,792 from Asia, 1,231 from Africa, and 501 from Oceania.

Furthering international cultural exchange, the United States admitted 24,346 exchange visitors during the fiscal year 1961. These visitors and scholars bring with them the cultural background and traditions of their native land and are required to return to their countries after their stays in the United States, in order to share with their countrymen the benefits of new skills and knowledge acquired in America.

Again, this year, the largest groups of exchange visitors came from Japan (2.217), India (1,579), United Kingdom (1,565), Germany $(1,562)$, and the Philippines $(1,409)$.
(e) Representatives of Forcign Comntries. In this group, 30,704 persons were admitted as foreign government officials, 9,383 as representatives to international organizations, 1,949 as representatives of foreign information media, and 755 as NATO represenatives.
(f) Other Nomimmigrants. Other aliens admitted for varying lengths of temporary stay included 4,549 treaty traders and investors with their wives and children ( 43 percent in this tategory came from Japan), and 106,888 alien trayelers who passed in transit through the United States.

c. Exclusion

1. Inadmissible Alions. The purpose of the inspection of alien applicants for admission to the U'nited States is to grant admission to those who are admissible under the law (as well as to establish control in the case of nonimmigrants to ensure departure at the end of their authorized stay), and to prevent the entry of those who are excludable.

During fiscal year 1961, 158,738 aliens were refused admission at the various ports of entry. This means about one applicant rejected for every 600 admitted to the United States. More than half of those rejected intended to enter as border crossers, others were crewmen to whom shore leave had been refused, or aliens who withdrew their applications for admission when they were advised that they appeared prima facie inadmissible.

Under formal proceedings 743 persons were excluded. Of these aliens, 625 attempted to enter without proper documents, 21 were excluded on subversive grounds, and 21 because of their criminal records. A few others were found to be mentally or physically defective, or belonged to one of the immoral classes.

The number of formal exclusions shows an 81 percent rise relative to 1960 , and a similar rise is to be noted in the number of exclusion hearings. During fiscal year 1961, 2,599 such hearings were completed, compared to 1,464 in 1960. Most of this rise was again caused by the continued arrival of Cubans seeking asylum in the United States.
2. Waivers of Inadmissibility. The Act of September 11, 1957, authorized the granting of waivers of inadmissibility for certain close relatives of citizens and permanent residents of the United States. Under these provisions, 857 waivers were granted to aliens excludable on criminal or immoral grounds, while 140 such waivers were denied. Waivers were granted to 219 excludable on grounds of documentary fraud; 23 were denied. The largest number of applicants for these waivers were from Mexico, Italy, and Germany. More than 80 percent of the waivers completed were acted upon in the overseas offices of the Service.

Exclusion may be waived for certain close relatives afflicted with tuberculosis. From the passage of the Act through June 30, 1961, 3,784 such aliens were admitted and referred to the Public Health Service. About 60 percent of these aliens were spouses, children, or parents of United States citizens. The remainder were like relatives of resident aliens.

An alien formerly excludable as one of the subversive classes, who meets the criteria established by Congress for "defector," may be admitted if it is within the public interest. Detailed reports of 68 defectors were sent to Congress and the aliens admitted.

The Attorney General's discretionary authority to admit inadmissible nonimmigrant aliens for temporary periods of stay was exercised favorably in 4,847 cases, and submitted to Congress.

a. Adjustment of Status from Noninmigrant to Immigrant

Under certain conditions, the law allows nonimmigrants, who are temporarily in the United States, to apply for an adjustment of their status to that of a permanent resident. In fiscal year 1961, 11,306 such adjustments were granted, substantially the same number as during the preceding period. Of these applicants, 4,471 were the spouses of United States citizens, 2,874 natives of Western Hemisphere countries and their families, 3,609 were quota immigrants, and 352 other aliens.

b. Creation of Record of Lawful Entry

A record of lawful admission for permanent residence may be created under section 249 of the Immigration and Nationality Act upon the application of an alien who entered the United States prior to June 28, 1940. During this fiscal year 5,037 such aplications for the creation of a record had been granted. More than threefourths of these aliens entered the United States prior to July 1, 1924.

c. Suspension of Deportation

Congress approved a total of 128 cases where the Attorney General ordered suspension of deportation and granted the adjustment of status of the applicant under section 244 of the Immigration and Nationality Act.

d. Private Bills

During the 1961 fiscal year, 2,207 private bills were introducted in Congress, representing a 12 percent rise over fiscal year 1959 which included a comparable first session of Congress. Only 151 bills were enacted, which is 60 percent less than in 1959. Of the bills introduced during this first session, 78 percent are designed to permit the immigration of aliens to whom quota numbers are not available. Most of these aliens would have been charged to the following oversubscribed quotas: Italy, Chinese Persons, Greece, and Poland.

a. Deportable Aliens Located

Since 1954 when more than a million deportable aliens were apprehended in the United States the pattern of illegality has changed drastically. At that time, over 95 percent of such aliens were Mexican nationals who entered without inspection. Since then the tight border control has brought about a continuing decrease in surreptitious entries. Offsetting this decline in surreptitious entries has been an increase in the number of deportable aliens who, though admitted legally, violated the conditions of their admission. For example, in fiscal year 1961, just 19 percent of the 88,823 deportable aliens located had entered without inspection, the remainder having been admitted at ports of entry.

Among the deportable aliens found were 3,120 agricultural workers, and 55.483 visitors.
students, immigrants, and other aliens legally admitted. Aliens who entered unlawtully included 2,634 crewman deserters, 213 stowaways, 16,661 aliens who entered without inspection (principally across the land borders). The total also includes 10,712 alien crewmen most of whom were technically deportable because the vessels on which they served did not depart from the United States within the required 29 -day time limit.

l'atrol Officers conduat light tusk force operation in agricuttural arca of Cftiformia.

The crewman control and anti-smuggling and stowaway programs continued to receive emphasis during 1961. The development of informants in the United States, abroad, and on vessels, who can furnish reliable information concerning stowaways and smuggling activities was stressed. Control measures along the St. Lawrence is an example for action taken to meet enforcement problems. Vessels on which 26,111 crewmen were ordered held on board were under frequent surveillance, to insure that no unauthorized landings were made. Searches were often made of crewman hang-outs; vessels were searched for stowaways and smuggled aliens.

The efforts resulted in an 11 percent decrease in crewmen placed under proceedings. The 213 stowaways located represents the lowest figure in any year since World War H. Sixty-six were Italian, 29 Cuban, and 13 Chinese; these were the only groups with more than 10 stowaways. At the land borders and along the Florida and Gulf coasts, 284 smugglers and 477 smuggled aliens were apprehended during the year.

Alien.s and smugglers were promptly presented for prosecution.

Sravch of ship for stownazas.
Coordination of efforts of the Service are illustrated by the following case. Information was received by New York indlicating that two stowaways were being smuggled by a crew member aboard the ship " $Z$ ". The investigators who met the vessel at quarantine in New York narrowed the identity of the crewman to one "C". Although "C" denied any knowledge of stowaways on the vessel, large sums of money were found hidden in his cabin and on his person. Meanwhile, a separate squad of investigators discovered two stowaways hidden in one of the holds. The stowaways denied being assisted and the crewman "C" steadfastly claimed complete innocence. Finally, the stowa ways admitted being smuggled aboard by "C", to whom they paid 600,000 Italian lire. The smuggler corroborated this account and the 600,000 lire was seized as evidence. In the criminal prosecutions that followed, the stowaways were convicted, given short sentences, and deported promptly to Italy. The smuggler "C" was convicted and sentenced to one year imprisonment.

b. Caribbean Program and Problems

As Cuba moved more firmly into the communist orbit during the year, and the assassination of Trujillo in the Dominican Republic added to the Caribbean unrest, the Service was confronted with a number of serious problems. On the one hand, the United States Government welcomes refugees fleeing tyranny in Cuba and the Dominican Republic. On the other hand, certain aliens in the guise of refugees may be security risks. At the end of Jume there were 4,000 Cuban refugees on parole, 26,000 in visitor status, and 32,190 refugees in a deferred departure status.

To more effectively cope with inspectional problems, secondary inspection on a selective basis was inaugurated in Miami, and later extended to Puerto Rico on a limited basis. A useful aid in the screening of undersirable aliens was the Caribbean Investigations and Coordination Program Index. This index, maintained in the Miami office, became more valuable when records from our Havana office were incorporated into the index after the termination of diplomatic relations with Cuba. The index contains information on subversives, suspected subversives, criminals, drug addicts and traffickers, and other Latin Americans.

The Caribbean Index may be referred to at any hour of the day or night by any Service office screening applicants for admission from Central and South America and Caribbean areas. More than 100 undesirable aliens withdrew their applications for admission after search of these indices, interrogation and investigation based on these indices.

As a direct result of the revolutionary and subversive politics stemming from the Castro regime in Cuba, New York, Los Angeles, and

San Francisco Districts established information indices on such aliens in their areas. One case in which the index was useful was that of Herman Frederick Marks, a native of Milwaukee, Wisconsin, who became known as "the butcher" while serving as a "captain" in Castro's army and "security officer" at La Cabana fortress in Havana, where he supervised the execution of more than 200 opponents of the Castro regime. He lost his United States citizenship as a result and was ordered deported by a special inquiry officer on May 31, 1961, in New York.

Operation Skyward, the procedure established November 2, 1959, for preventing persons departing by private planes for Cuba, was expanded. In January 1961, departure controls were extended to apply to both citizens and aliens destined to Cuba by any mode of transportation.

During the year, 144 notices of prevention of departure were served and 199 are outstanding under the provisions of section 215 of the Immigration and Nationality Act and Presidential Proclamation No. 3004 of June 17, 1953. Operation Skyward was aided immeasurably by the records of the Flight Information Center at Miami. Data relating to airplanes and boats, some of which are suspected or are known to have been used in revolutionary activities, are in these records. The center also serves as a clearinghouse for other enforcement agencies.

c. Internal Security and the Foreign-born

The attempted surreptitious entries of Cubans with communist leanings, among the Florida Keys and at the Mexican border, added to the responsibilities for internal security. In addition to guarding against Caribbean communists, the Service met its responsibility for maintaining internal security from the threat of other foreign-born communists. These are three avenues for the functioning of this responsibility.
(1) Revocation of naturalization-a court action requiring "clear and mequivocal evidence" that the naturalization was obtained through fraud-may result in denaturalization of the persons, which, in turn, may make deportation possible.

Despite the difficulty of meeting the standard of proof required by courts in revocation cases, investigation was completed in several cases which give some promise of success.
(2) Deportation of denaturalized or other aliens who have carried out subversive activities is the aim of investigative efforts.

Zeny Grzelewski, former Literature Agent for the Communist Party, West Side Section, Detroit, Michigan, was deported to Poland on August 26, 1960, on subversive grounds. John Zazuliak, an Austrian citizen, the subject of long deportation proceerlings, obtained his own travel document to U.S.S.R. and departed on January 26, 1961. He was formerly the Section Organizer of the North Detroit Section of the Michigan District of the Communist Party. Also deported on subervise grounds were Hamish Scott Mackay, a Canadian citizen, and Willia Nuikkanen, of Finland. In each instance, the deportation charge was premised on membership in the Communist Party. These expulsions finally brought to an end proceedings which were contested administratively and in the courts for many years. A number of aliens having subversive backgrounds or affiliations were also deported. There were 40 mexecuted orders of deportation on subversive grounds outstanding at the end of the year.
(3) Denial of applications for naturalization or the exclusion of subversive aliens seeking admission are preventive measures taken by the Service.

The Service program instituted in 1959, to identify and exclude from the United States communist residents of Mexico, continues to increase in usefulness. Sufficient evidence to exclude such persons. was developed in 555 cases. A total of 21 persons were excluded on subversive grounds.

Investigations opened of naturalization applicants who may be subversive increased from 832 in 1960 to 851 in 1961, an increase which may be attributed, in part, to the Cuban situation.

d. Foreign-born of Criminal Classes

Alien racketeers, prostitutes, procurers, narcotics addicts, marcotics tratlickers, perpetrators of frauds against the Govermment is another group to whom Service enforcement oflicers give priority attention.

The racketeer has been the prime target, since, with his deportation, lesser criminals, whose interests are dependent on his, become less effective. However, hoth in the denaturalization and deportation processes, imperliments exist that thwart enforcement. Denaturalization is dillicult because of the stringent requirements imposed by the courts. The deportation process. in itself expeditions, is often thwarted by the alien's resort to judicial procedures solely to delay or obstruct the execution of the deportation orders.

For example: Michele Abati, former member of the Detroit Purple Gang and a member of the organized crime syndicate of New York, was finally deported on July 8, 1961. This ended seven years of repetitious appeals.

After years of litigation, the United States Supreme Court, on February 20, 1961, affirmed the denaturalization of Frank Costello. Costello's appeal from a deportation order is pending before the Board of Immigration Appeals.

Joseph Stacher, alias "Doc" Rosen, a native of Russia, who has been associated in business ventures with Meyer Lansky, Joe Adonis, and wats an intimate friend and associate of Murder Incorporated's Lepke Buchalter, was put under exclusion proceedings during the year at Los Angeles. Although previously stripped of citizenship, he has not been deportable under law. It was known however that Stacher, one of the wealthiest racketeers in the United States, occasionally visited Europe. A lookout was posted with the result that when he returned to Los Angeles on March 30, 1961, exclusion proceedings were instituted, based on a conviction for forgery. On August 31, 1961, the special inquiry officer ordered Stacher's exclusion and deportation. His appeal from this order is pending before the Board of Immigration Appeals.

Both at the Canadian and Mexican land borders, the Service is engaged in a preventive program whose objective is to identify foreign criminals who may be residing in adjacent countries or who may have entered the United States, so that such aliens may be prevented from entering the United States or located within the United States and deported. During the year, 1,265 look-outs were posted of these criminal aliens. As a result, 46 such aliens were excluded and 52 were located within the United States.

e. Frauds

Immigration frauds are most often committed in order to gain admission into the United States. Document frauds are most frequent.

In Canada, a Rev. Jordan furnished false Canadian passports to British West Indians, and then helped them to cross over into the United States. A travel agency in New York was doing a profitable business in filing first preference petitions for quota immigrants. In Califormia, false affidavits of business and economic status and jols were being sold by a woman notary.

Mexican aliens use documents to sustain false claims to American citizenship. During físcal year 1961, Service officers apprehended 1,048 such cases, an increase from 964 during fiscal year 1960. The files at the Fraudulent Document Center, maintained in El Paso, now include over 6,000 such cases.

Frank C. Robles, a former member of the Arizona State Legislature and publisher of the weekly, "Arizona P.M.," was indicted for furnishing forged assurances of employment to aliens seeking to immigrate to this country from Mexico in seven separate cases. The Supreme Court affirmed his conviction. On April 10, 1961, he began serving the two-year sentence imposed by the District Court.

Organized marriage frauds whereby aliens married United States citizens to gain the right to nonquota status, continued to be subjects of investigation as other participants were uncovered in the San Diego, California, Newark, New Jersey, and New York City areas.

For many years, Chinese United States citizens, upon return to the United States after visiting China, have claimed to have fathered children while in China. Most of these were false claims that were then used by the alleged children to enter the United States as citizens.

Under the so-called Chinese confession program, these alleged citizens are urged to disclose their true identities and status in this country. Where possible, these confessed aliens are permitted to adjust their status. During 1961, under this program, 1,248 persons confessed to having entered this country fratudulently. These confessions exposed 2,235 other Chinese who entered in the same manner, and cut off 1,187 positions or slots on the fictitious family trees.

f. Expulsion Proceedings

When an alien is located, the first step in the deportation process is the issuance to the alien of an order to show cause why he should not be deported. In fiscal year 1961, 17,323 orders to show cause were issued. This is a 47 percent increase over last year and is the highest number issued since the order to show cause procedure was instituted in 1956.

A total of 13,004 deportation hearings were held before special inquiry othicers. In 10,351 cases, 80 percent, deportability was conceded by the pleadings of the aliens concerned.

At the close of the fiscal year, 4,816 orders of deportation remained mexecuted. Of these, 35 percent were for persons in institutions (61 persons in hospitals, the remainder in penal institutions), 21 percent had not been executed because of pending private bills or litigation, 15 percent were either awaiting transportation or travel documents. Many of the remainder were political refugees, others were not deported due to illness, or they were disposing of property, or for other similar reasons.

Service efforts were directed toward expediting the issuance of travel documents and transportation arrangements. As a result, the number of active deportation cases awaiting travel documents or transportation dropped from 1,060 to 735 .

g. Deiention

A total of 10,272 aliens who were likely to abscond, or whose present freedom at large represented a danger to public safety or security, were served with warrants of arrest and placed in detention. In addition, 10,108 Mexican nationals were assembled for tramsportation back to Mexico at detention headquarters. Average days detention in Service facilities was 7.7, in non-Service facilities 4.8 days.

To return the Mexican nationals closer to their homes, and at the same time to discourage their illegal reentry into the United States, Mexican nationals who lived in the south and central section of Mexico were usually removed from the United States by way of the McAllen Detention Facility to Reynosa, Tamaulipas, by bus, then by air to Leon Guanajuato. Those whose homes were in the north central section of Mexico generally were assembled at the detention facility at El Paso, Texas, and taken by bus to Ojinaga, Chihuahua, thence by train to Chihuahua, Chihuahua.

h. Deportation and Required Departure

Of the 59,821 aliens expelled from the United States, 52,383 conceded deportability and were permitted to depart without the institution of deportation proceedings. Included in this category were 18,944 aliens who failed to comply with the conditions of nonimmigrant status; 16,154 direct required departures of Mexican nationals who entered without inspection; 10,712 crewman technical violators; 5,455 aliens who entered without inspection and were served orders to show cause; 920 who entered without proper documents; and 198 others.

A total of 7,438 aliens were ordered deported. Four were deported on subversive charges; 677 on criminal, immoral or narcotic charges; 3,020 failed to observe the conditions of their admission, and 2,916 entered surreptitiously; 400 had been admitted without proper documents; 357 entered without approval, after previous exclusion or deportation. Fifty-four mental or physical defectives were deported.

The Service airplane which is especially equipped with medical facilities to cope with inflight needs of mental patients continues to play an important role in the return of mentally ill aliens to their homeland. It is also used to return criminal deportees for whom commercial transportation is diflicult to obtain. During fiscal year 1961, 49 mentally incompetent aliens were deported or removed by the Service aircraft. Their care in institutions in the United States had already cost over $$ 228,000$. Had they continued to remain in these institutions for the extent of their life expectancy, the anticipated public expenditure in their behalf would have exceeded $$ 2,000,000$. In addition to the mentally incompetent, the Service aircraft transported overseas 125 other aliens being deported or removed from the United States. On return flights, the plane carried refugees and United States citizens who had become ill or stranded abroad and were being returned to the United States by the Department of State.

Aliens who fall into distress in the United States may be returned to their own countries at Government expense, if they agree not to again enter the United States. Under this provision 143 aliens were removed.

i. Criminal Prosection

Of the 5,005 cases presented to United States Attorneys for violation of immigration laws, 2,459 criminal prosecutions were authorized. Ninety-three percent of the cases disposed of resulted in convictions with aggregate sentences of 26,345 months and fines of $$ 77,525$.

The largest number of cases presented were those of deported aliens who reentered the United States without permission (8 U.S.C. 1326). Of 1,484 such cases authorized by the United States Attorneys, 1,418 were disposed of, with convictions in 1,375 cases. Average sentence in these cases was 13 months.

In the 160 convictions for document frauds ( 18 U.S.C. 1546 ), the average sentence was 17 months. One hundred eighty-eight nationality violations were authorized by United States Attorneys. Ninety-two percent of the 184 nationality violation cases concluded resulted in convictions; 158 of these cases were convictions for false representation as a United States citizen (18 U.S.C. 911).

j. Revocation of Naturalization

The Supreme Court affirmed the revocation of naturalization of Frank Costello, first ordered in 1958. The Court held that Costello concealed the material fact that bootlegging was his true occupation, rather than "real estate." In two other cases, denaturalization was ordered for persons who failed to reveal their criminal records at the time of naturalization.

Ten revocation suits were pending at the end of the year- 2 subversive, 6 criminal, and 2 other cases.

IV. ALIEN ADDRESS REPORTS

In accordance with the requirements of the Immigration and Nationality Act, 3,038,304 a liens filed address report cards with the Service in 1961. This is an increase of three percent over last year's figure and the reports indicate that the alien population center continues to move toward the Southwest. For the first time, the Southwest Region exceeded all the other regions, with $1,003,111$ aliens reporting their addresses there, and Califormia pulled further ahead of New York as the State with the largest number of aliens reporting. About one out of every five aliens now lives in California.

Again, the largest number of reporting aliens were of Mexican nationality $(520,884)$, followed by Canada $(338,242)$, United Kingdom $(267,571)$, Germany $(267,562)$, Italy (248,773), Poland (138,216), and Cuba ( 111,521 ). The other nationalities were under the hundred thousand mark.

Largest numbers of Mexican nationals live in California (219,335) and in Texas (199,816) ; Canadians in California, Michigan, and New York; Britons and Germans in New York and California, and the largest number of Cubans stay in Florida. Owing to the Cuban situation, the fastest rate of growth in the alien population was shown by Florida, where the number of aliens reporting rose by some 40 percent from 83,577 last year to 117,619 this year.

V. CITIZENSHIP

a. Publicity
b. Citizenship Education
c. Naturalization Courts
d. Persons Naturalized
e. I'etitions Denied
f. Derivative Citizens
g. Loss of Citizenship

a. Publicity

It has always been recognized that a substantial portion of the aliens fail to file their applications because they are unaware that they have become eligible for naturalization. To meet this situation, the Invitation-to-File Program was designed to remind qualified aliens of their eligibility and over a million notifications were mailed out during 1959 and 1960. While this program was discontinued during fiscal year 1961, these invitations have left an imprint on the conciousness of the alien population which will probably endure for some time. Even now, a substantial number of applications are being received from aliens notified a year or more ago, and this is expected to continue to some extent through inscal year 1962.

The Service continues to notify newly naturalized persons by mail of the derivative rights and naturalization eligibility of their children resulting from the parent's naturalization, and of the aldministrative procedures leading to the issuance of documentary evidence of the children's citizenship. When the necessary applications on behalf of the children are promptly made, the Service can proceed expeditiously with the examination and the adjudication of each case while the files and documents relating to the members of the same family are still in the operating unit. At the same time, the citizenship status of the children is firmly established by the issuance to them of certificates of citizenship.

The Service also distributes brochures and other informative material that describe the naturalization requirements and procedures in the simplest of terms, and stress the assistance made available by the school anthorities to those who wish to prepare themselves for the educational phases of the naturalization examination by attending citizenship classes.

Three educational films are also being used by the Service to combat misunderstanding in the area of naturalization. Representative is the one entitled "Are You a Citizen." This film realistically depicts the nature of the examination and tests given the applicant, with emphasis on the educational and literacy requirements. These films are available for loan to the many recognized organizations interested in furthering the cause of citizenship and encouraging aliens to apply for naturalization.

Cordial cooperation with the courts permitted the Service to arrange for final naturalization proceedings to be conducted on "Citizenship Day" and during "Constitution Week" proclamed each year by the President of the United States. Impressive ceremonies were arranged for these occasions with the cooperation of the courts and patriotic orgamizations.

b. Citizenship Education

Among its requirements for naturalization, the statute includes the ability to speak, understand, read, and write the English language as well as a general knowledge of our country's history, government, and Constitution. The special citizenship education programs, which are designed to assist the nataralization applitant in preparing to meet these prerequisites, were agrain fully implemented during the 1961 fiscal year. Names and addresses of newly arrived aliens were furmished to local schools so that invitations to attend citizenship classes might be extended to immigrants. In addition 50,890 names and addresses of candidates for naturalization were made available to public schools. Among the aliens admitted to citizenship this year, 41,259 attended public school courses and 2,692 were enrolled in home study courses. A total of 191,931 copies of the various parts of the "Ferleral Textbook on Citizenship" were distributed to candidates for citizenship either through the public schools or the Government Printing Office.

Naturalization examiners and other representatives of the Service continued their full cooperation with the public schools and other organizations in the establishment and maintenance of citizenship classes and in encouraging school attendance. In addition, at United States military installations, both at home and abroad, special efforts were made by the Service to satisfy the citizenship education needs of foreign-born dependents of our servicemen through the establishment of suitable educational facilities.

c. Naturalization Courts

Good liaison and close cooperation continued to characterize the relationship between the Service and the naturalization courts during the 1961 fiscal year. Almost all judges acceded to Service requests for special final hearings in cases involving public interest. The constant movement of military persomel and their alien dependents overseas, as well as the foreign assignment of resident aliens engaged in important govermment projects, frequently sequires special hearings in connection with an accelerated naturalization.

The court consolidation program, designed to benefit the Service and the maturalization applicant alike, was successfully continued and the number of courts has been further reduced from 684 to 662 . This program which concentrates the naturalization work in the larger courts permits more frequent final hearings and earlier disposition of cases, as well as more impressive court ceremonies.

d. Persons Naturalized

Operational currency in naturalization case work continued during fiscal year 1961, petitions for naturalization being filed promptly and presented to the courts at the next scheduled hearing.

The pledge of allegiance of neze citizens-a natheratizaton cercmony in old Sumeme Court chambers on Law Day, May 1, 1961.

The number of aliens naturalized during this fiscal year increased by 11 percent compared to the previous year. A total of 132,450 persons were arlmitted to United States citizenship, the highest number since 1957. There were 104,341 of the petitions granted under the general provisions of the law. Special provisions were applicable to 18,674 spouses of citizens, 7,416 children of citizens, and 2,019 others. The last group comprised 1,719 persons who were granted maturalization on the basis of their military service.

As in the previous fiscal year, 70 percent of the new citizens formerly owed allegiance to the following ten countries: Germany (18.738), Italy (18,365), United Kingdom ( 10,544 ), Canada $(10,033)$, Poland $(8,605)$, Mexico $(8,405)$, Greece $(6,140)$, U.S.S.R. $(3,850)$. Japan (3,790), and Ireland ( 3,754 ).

More than one-half of the children naturalized during the fiscal year came from only four countries: Germany, Greece, Italy, and Korea, reflecting the orphan adoptions by United States citizens in those countries. Almost twothirds of the spouses of citizens maturalized were formerly nationals of the following five countries: Germany, Japan, United Kingdom, Italy, and Canada. This includes those countries where many United States citizens have been stationed on military or civilian assigmment.

e. Petitions Denied

The petitions for naturalization of 3,175 persons were denied during the year, an increase of 39 percent over last year's figures. The petitioner's withdrawal of his petition was the reason for denial in 1,441 cases. In most of these cases, withdrawal is suggested by the naturalization examiner when it is found that the petitioner is not yet able to meet the statutory requirements for naturalization. Petitions of 898 persons were denied because of lack of prosecution on the part of the petitioner.

Notewortly is the increase in the number of denials based unon the lack of knowledge of the English language or an understanding of the history and government of the United States. There were 144 petitions denied for lack of knowledge of the English language compared to the 90 petitions denied last vear; 434 petitions were denied because of lack of knowledge and understanding of the fundamentals of history and the principals and form of government of the United States. This category shows a large increase compared to last year's figure of 43 such denials. This is attributed to the increase in the number of persons of advanced age who responded to the Invitation-to-File Program for whom no exemption from the requirements is provided by law.

f. Derivative Citizens

A total of 30.942 certificates of derivative citizenship was issued during the 1961 fiscal year, 15 percent more than in the previons year. Of these, 13,281 were issued to persons born ahroad who acquired citizenship at birth through their citizen parents. The other 17,661 persons were aliens at hirth and derived United States citizenship through the maturalization of their parents or through marriage to United States citizens.

g. Loss of Citizenship

A total of 3,669 persons were expatriated in 1961; 1,290 of these lost their citizenship by voting in a foreign election, 1,151 by resjoling in a foreign state, and 619 through naturalization in a toreign state. There were 288 persons who either renounced their citizenship or took an oath of allegiance to a foreign state, 271 who either served in the armed forces or in a civilian capacity under a foreign state, and 50 persons who expatriated themselves on other gromads.

The number of certificates of maturalization revoked during fiscal year 1961 was 44 . This is only about one-third of the number of ceritficates revoked during the previous fiscal year and that figure itself was the lowest since 1947 . Again most of the certificates were revoked becatuse naturalized citizens established residences abroad within five years after naturalization.

During the year 499 persons regained their United States citizenship. Most of these were women who lost their citizenship by marrying aliens prior to September 22, 1922 .

VI. EMPLOYEE DEVELOPMENT AND TRAINING

Ever increasing demands for wider and more detailed general knowledge and improved technical proficiency were carefully considered in the recruitment of patrol officer-trainees. Three 13-week training courses were held at the Border Patrol Academy with 235 new appointees completing their initial training. These newly appointed trainees receive additional intensive on-the-job training under the supervision of designated training othicers. In the Officers Training School 39 officers completed the officers training course in two six-week sessions.

The shifting of emphasis from the general type of oflicer training to more specific functional area courses was a significant accomplishment in the Service's training program. In two-week training sessions, 47 investigators, 110 administrative oflicers, 14 naturalization examiners, and 82 stenographers and secretaries participated in courses alapted to specific work areas. A total of 50 immigrant inspectors atlended four-woek courses.

In addition to formal training courses were many two-day eonferences, bi-weekly discussion groups, extension course studies, and many other less formal training sessions.

Officers of the Service participated in a number of courses offered by other Government agencies. There were five persons trained at non-Government facilities in the fields of management, supervision, and foreign languages.

Plans are being made to re-settle all Service training courses that heretofore were held at the Border Patrol Academy, El Paso, Texas, and the Officers Training School, Old Post Office Building, Washington, D. C., at facilities recently acquired by the Service at Port Isabel, Texas.

VII. ADMINISTRATION

The Administrative Division supports the operations programs. It keeps the records; compiles and analyzes statistical data and work measurement reports; staffs the positions; is responsible for the building and equipment programs; has supervisory responsibility for employee development and training and for management improvement ; and furnishes financial support.
(1) The Finance Branch effected the realignment and conversion of object classifications and prepared instructions for the monthly reporting of financial transactions to the Treasury Department. In addition to other normal accounting activities, the Branch arranged for the reactivating of the Vienna, Austria, office, following the passage of the Refugee-Escapee Act.
(2) The Records Administration and Information Branch completed integration of the immigrant index into a master index. The master index was augmented by index cards for deportable aliens located who are required to depart. All applications for first preference visas and applicants for parole as refugeeescapees, are now searched against the index, in addition to the general index searches.
(8) New position descriptions for investigators and naturalization examiners resulted in ungrading of 285 positions. From the 4,970 applications rated 256 selections were made by the Board of Civil Service Examiners.
(4) Under the Service Suggestion System 880 contributions were received of which 362 were approved. Cash awards totaling $$ 51,533$ were granted Service employees.
(5) An Engineering Branch, established during the year, brought the relating problems of design, construction, space control, and electronics communications under centralized control. Contracts were awarded for five new Border Patrol stations, three border stations with two residences eath, and three other residences. Nine Border Patrol stations, and one border station were completed. In addition, four new border stations were completed by the General Services Administration.
(6) Management Improvement Projects included manpower utilization studies in the Northwest Region; mechanization of fee collection procedures in four larger offices : the installation of a lighting system near Tiajuana. In addition, reports and forms were controlled in order to prevent unnecessary requests, and to improve the format of those reports requested.

(7) The Statistics Branch continued to compile the work measurement report and through it to furnish guidance to Operations Divisions, the Personnel Office, Field Inspections, and Budget Officers concerning the volume of work and man-hours required. Other studies included: an analysis of alien orphan legislation and admissions; adjustment of status of students and exchange aliens; analysis of proposed legislation and its effect on the volume of work of the Service.

From 1820 to 1867 figures represent alien passengers arrived; 1868 through 1891 and 1895 through 1897 immigrant aliens arrived; 1892 through 1894 and from 1898 to the present time immigrant aliens admitted.

1/ Includas formosa.
[From 1820 to 1867 figures represent alien passengers arrived; 1868 to 1891 inclusive and 1895 to 1897 inclusive immigrant aliens arrived; 1892 to 1894 inclusive and from 1898 to present time immigrant aliens admitted. Data for years prior to 1906 relate to country whence alien came; thereafter to country of last permanent residence. Because of changes in boundaries and changes in lists of countries, data for certain countries are not comparable throughout.
